Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/760,249	Applicant(s) SILVERBROOK, KIA
	Examiner Shelby Fidler	Art Unit 2861

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Silverbrook (US 6347864 B1) in view of Petersen et al. (US 6488368 B2).

Regarding claim 5:

Silverbrook discloses a printer cartridge for an inkjet printer, the printer cartridge comprising:

a body (504) configured for user insertion in, and removal from, a printer (col. 2, lines 26-28);

a pagewidth printhead (516) with an array of nozzles (col. 4, lines 40-41) for ejecting different printing fluids onto a media substrate (col. 2, lines 42-44), each of the nozzles being dedicated to one of the different printing fluids only (col. 4, lines 42-44 and Fig. 7);

a plurality of printing fluid reservoirs (548) in the body for storing each of the different printing fluids separately (Fig. 5), each of the plurality of printing fluid reservoirs being in fluid communication with the nozzles of the array that correspond to its printing fluid (col. 2, lines 40-42 and col. 4, lines 40-44).

Art Unit: 2861

Silverbrook does not expressly disclose a refill port on the body, the refill port having a plurality of inlets, each of the inlets being in fluid communication with one of the printing fluid reservoirs only; such that, each of the printing fluid reservoirs can be individually refilled to replace printing fluid ejected by the pagewidth printhead.

However, Petersen et al. disclose a refill port (manifold 100) on the body (printhead cartridges 16), the refill port having a plurality of inlets (ink pen fluid connections 223; Fig. 5b), each of the inlets being in fluid communication with one of the printing fluid reservoirs only (col. 5, lines 10-15 and Fig. 4a); such that, each of the printing fluid reservoirs can be individually refilled to replace printing fluid ejected by the printhead (col. 3, lines 34-36 and Fig. 4a).

At the time of invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to utilize a refill port on the body of a print cartridge into the invention of Silverbrook. The motivation for doing so, as taught by Petersen et al., is to replenish the ink being ejected from the printhead (col. 3, lines 34-36).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2 and 5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Please see the above rejection to Silverbrook in view of Peterson et al.

In response to applicant's arguments, the recitation that the body of the claim is incorporated into a removable printer cartridge was not given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
